A monument to William Wallace has been commenced in Scotland.

Commodore Vanderbilt returns a $653,892 income. Nice to have in the house.

The Quakers say Miss Lena Peters and not Miss Schomberg, is the handsomest girl in the United States.

U. P. Suvoong, a native Chinese student in Keynon (Ohio) college, has carried off the prize for the greatest proficiency among the seniors in the Greek testament.

W. A. Smithson, of Philadelphia, and Miss Maggie E. Fornshell, of Wooster, Ohio, were married in a balloon, at Pittsburg, on the 6th instant.

The families of the president, Secretary Welles, and Assistant Secretary Faxon left Washington for Boston, on board the gunboat Ascutney.

Gen. Grant went to see the Black Crook, and also went behind the scenes. Ulysses!

Linton Stephens, half brother of Hon. A. H. Stephens, wedded a Boston belle last week.

Mr. Littell, of the Living Age, has reached the age of seventy.

The mother of Hon. Cassius M. Clay died in Madison county, Ky., recently, aged ninety years.

Long John Wentworth has been dubbed LL D. by Dartmouth.

Admiral Farragut is said to be the only full admiral afloat. His insignia of rank is a blue flag with four stars.

Three years ago the Duke of Wellington had an income of $750,000 a year. By reckless dissipation and profligacy of every conceivable kind, he has reduced it to about $7500.

Wendell Phillips, of Massachusetts, (white) for president, and John M. Langston, of Ohio, (colored) for vice-president, is one of the radical tickets.

A writer in the New York Gazette, contrasting Spurgeon and Beecher, says: "No man in the world understands his physical system better than Mr. Beecher. His eating, sleeping, exercise all conform to the laws of health. He is thoroughly temperate in all respects. He has reached a half century with a sound constitution in a healthy body, and has twenty-five years' good service in him yet. Spurgeon is a young man. His flashy appearance and the gout that has already overtaken him show that physical laws must be obeyed as well as moral. Mr. Beecher lives plainly, is simple in his dress and his habits, and if met in the street would sooner be taken for an express man in a hurry for the cars than a minister. Spurgeon dresses in pure English clerical style, is a free liver, dispenses an elegant hospitality, keeps his coach and coachman, lives in a fine mansion, and boasts as good a turn-out as the archbishop of Canterbury.

HOW WILL SHELBY COUNTY VOTE?

Editors Memphis Appeal:

To-day, there are not as many people in Memphis by five thousand, as there were one year ago. The oldest of our citizens never saw so many stores and dwellings for rent, in May, June and July, as can now be found all through the town. Last year, upwards of sixty million bricks were put up in buildings; and stores and houses found tenants, at high prices, as fast as they could be prepared. The future was promising, for none thought fanaticism and corruption would go as far as they have gone, and therefore none saw the "shadow on the wall" which disfranchisement and other baneful radical legislation have brought upon this city. Then, landlords did not have to hunt for tenants; and lot owners did not have to sell their property at one-half its value. The future was full of hope. How is it now? The words "for rent," or "for sale" tell the story, and any street in our city furnishes the proof. Louisville, under the guardianship of laws made by and for her own citizens, has nearly doubled her population within the past five years, while Memphis is going down hill. It is pleasant to see low rents when business is active, but is it better to have low rents and no business, than high rents and active trade? Will a city prosper more when rents are low because one-fourth of the houses are empty, than when rents are high and business flourishing? All classes admit the blight that rests on trade here, and none but fools or knaves deny that the baneful legislation of radical rulers drives away all confidence and all hope. What sane man is coming to Memphis when even the corrupt Beaumont finds it necessary to call on the citizens of the town to aid him in preventing a riot on the day of election? What is it that has induced him to apprehend a riot? The conservatives have had no power to pass laws arraying one class against another. They have had no hand in that legislation which robs the white man of the right to vote, and gives it to the negro. They have passed no laws which nine-tenths of our best people openly denounce, day and night, as outrages upon the rights of the only people whose taxes support the state and feed its corrupt radical officials. They have never proclaimed that "taxation without representation" is just. If our people have been thus outraged; if they are excited; if even such a dog as Beaumont thinks they may possibly have some cause for excitement, who is responsible for this "feverish anxiety?" People do not often complain of laws that are just and general in their bearing. If radical laws have none of these elements, who is to blame? Their effects, their curse, their blight are strongly presented throughout our city. They reach all callings—all classes. Are they to continue? Yes; and they will grow worse until we can change our lawmakers. We are talking and thinking too much about the governor and congressmen. What honor, now, in being a member of congress? If we elect conservative members, they will not be allowed to take their seats; and radical members could do us no more harm than the present majority in congress will do. Our first duty is to get control of our legislature and liberate ourselves. That done, we can let congress and Thad. Stevens go to the devil, or any other place. We cannot correct that great evil without the aid of a corrected northern opinion; and when that opinion shall be changed, we shall be prepared to co-operate with it to overthrow the national evil. Now, our duty is with this infamous state evil; and we must leave no stone unturned to extirpate it. As said before, the political complexion of the next legislature may depend on the members Shelby county shall elect, and as radicalism is ruining and blasting every interest in Memphis, every man whose prosperity depends upon the future of our city, should bestir himself to overthrow a despotism which fears its odious measures cannot be enforced except by the bayonet placed in the hands of citizens who have no interest in the state. Seven thousand negroes have registered in Memphis. Shall these be allowed to vote away our rights and liberties? As a general rule, there are eight inhabitants to every male over twenty-one years of age. That has been the average during all the presidential and state elections. Then, if there are seven thousand negroes registered in Memphis, there should be fifty-six thousand negroes in the county. Even supposing there are but seven inhabitants to every voter, there should be forty-nine thousand negroes to furnish seven thousand voters. All know this is not so. In 1860, there were but seventeen thousand negroes in the county, according to the census reports, and there are not thirty thousand now. They have increased in Memphis, but decreased in the county; and while there may be fifteen thousand in Memphis, there are not ten thousand outside of it. Thirty thousand is a large figure for the whole county, and twenty thousand for the town. No one estimates our city population now at more than sixty thousand, and the negroes do not furnish one-fourth of it. If the negroes number thirty thousand in the county, they can register one-eighth or one-seventh of that—say four thousand voters. They have registered seven thousand. Here, then, is a fraudulent vote of three thousand. That vote, of course, comes from negroes who do not live in this state, and they may elect radicals to the next legislature. Shall these dogs be allowed to vote away our liberties? I am glad to know there are lists in the hands of our friends, having on them the names of many negroes from Mississippi and Arkansas, who have obtained their papers from that corrupt knave, Jim. Davis, who would sell his soul for office or gold. These negroes may as well learn, first as last, that they are known; and if they dare to vote upon the rights of the white men of this state, they will do so at their peril. Let them and their white allies dare attempt to seize the polls. That game has never yet been attempted here, and it will be exceedingly dangerous to play it now. Beaumont and Barbour Lewis and that filthy crew may see the beginning, if such an outrage be attempted, but no one will be rash enough to say they will see the end of the trouble they have been so villainously preparing for our people during the past twelve months. If they think proper to open the ball, they will soon conclude that h—ll would be a cool place for them. In the meantime, as the APPEAL suggests, let every man be ready to answer any call our excellent sheriff, Winters, may make on him as a conservator of the peace. In our midst are thousands of "ex-rebels," who faced death on a hundred battlefields, while such hounds as Beaumont and Barbour Lewis and little Richard and Ruel Hough were moving out plunder and prey. These men are now our best citizens, hard at work to redeem their fortunes, and avoiding all causes for collision. But they know that the best way to preserve peace is to let these radical dogs, white and black, know that they can and will prevent any outbreak which their evil brains may have concocted, and that they will back the sheriff of the county in all lawful efforts to prevent outrage, and preserve what little liberty we yet have left. The radicals will incite the negroes to serious outrages on the day of election. They desire a riot; but they will take care to seek their dens when it begins. Let our people be quiet but ready.

[COMMUNICATED.]

When a nation stakes her honor, her property, and even her existence on the issue of war, her citizens, irrespective of parties, by interest, sympathy and passion, are banded together to promote the success of the common cause, and fear of sacrifices or cost seldom influence the termination of the struggle. There is, then, an end to be attained involving the interests of all, and life and treasure are freely given for its consummation. When the struggle is over, passion cooled, and the avocations of peace resumed, the people differing, as they previously did, assume divers party relations, and cannot long be induced to support a party that entails greater sacrifices than war itself, especially when that party has no great object of material or political benefit to the country. Our late war bred bitter hate, and since men's political success has been in proportion to their capacity for vindictiveness, bitter hatred is preferred to the most exalted talent, and the legislatures are filled with the most violent men the country can produce. We do not reflect upon our condition; all view it from some stand-point of passion and ignore every dictate of reason for the success of their hatred. We must look abroad for an unprejudiced estimate of us. The financial rating is the best barometer of a nation's prosperity. London is the great money center of the world, where the largest and most sagacious capitalists of every country are represented—men who make investments simply for profit. What are our bonds worth there? Take the very best class of United States bonds, the first series of 5-20s, maturing in about fifteen years, then they are to be redeemed in gold, bearing six per cent. interest, in gold they are worth seventy-two cents. That is, for every $100,000 we sell, we get $72,000, and pay during the fifteen years $90,000 interest, and then $100,000 principal. In the same market the perpetual English consol, bearing only three per cent. interest, is worth about ninety-five cents. Why is it that those sagacious men forego the greater profit offered by an investment in 5-20s, and content themselves with three per cent. per annum on commercial paper? It is no present inability on the part of the United States to meet her interest. The treasury holds over one hundred million dollars in gold, with a revenue steadily pouring in to keep in that condition.

It is want of confidence in our future. They see the legislation pursued must bring financial as it has political ruin on this country. We are drifting whither ignorance, passion or cupidity may carry us. All laws of political economy, violated constitutions, rights of states and persons disregarded, one-third of the country under military despotism, individual confidence destroyed, the whole enterprise and industry of the country paralyzed, the cost of government already fabulous, rapidly increasing, our imports doubling our exports, with no resource to settle the balance of trade but to sell bonds, and as the interest on them matures and adds to the balance against us, sell more bonds to pay it, and when the bonds mature sell new to pay old ones. We have already sold five hundred millions bonds abroad to settle the balance of trade, and no one can tell how many million dollars railroad stocks, estate and municipal bonds, etc., etc., and we are yet shipping gold heavily to settle the balance. Is it any wonder that shrewd men forego the temporary profit offered by so uncertain an investment?

The amount of bonds we will have to force on them will soon place the credit of the United States entirely at England's mercy. If the north would give up her mad policy of hate, and restore concord, the bonds of the United States would be worth not only par but a premium. The whole debt of United States, except what has been sold abroad, belongs to the north. The impoverished south owns none of it. A 5-20 or 10-40 would be a curiosity to most of us. This depreciation of one item of their property to the amount of six hundred million dollars, is but a small part of the loss the north incurs to gratify her hate of the south. Unless that policy of the government is changed, the depreciation must become much greater.

GEORGIA ITEMS.

—The Augusta Press says: The two lodges of Odd Fellows in this city have received about one hundred dollars as their quota of the donation from the Grand Lodge of Kentucky, I. O. O F. This amount has been the means of making many a widow's heart rejoice, for the lodges here have ministered to the wants of those connected with the order. Charity is the principal feature of this organization.

—It is stated by a letter writer from Atlanta that on the memorable Fourth, a coffin containing a whip and cowhide, was buried by the white and black radicals of that city with imposing ceremonies meaning that slavery was dead and buried forever. That may relieve the minds of some superstitious negroes, but to carry out their ideas of liberty they should have buried all the agricultural implements and hoisted a huge umbrella over the spot. Such is their conception of liberty.

—The Rev. Mr. Key, a local Baptist preacher, who lived on Bushy creek, in Burke county, about twenty miles from Augusta, committed suicide, the 21st, Sabbath morning. It appears that he placed the muzzle of a gun at the lower extremity of the chest, and struck the hammer with a stick, which he held in his hand. The cause of the rash act is unknown.

—Quite a revival has been in progress among the negroes in the Baptist church at Dalton, under the ministrations of Rev. John Lyle, a colored preacher, formerly of Kentucky.

—A brutal murder was committed near White Plains, a few days since. Four negroes tied one of their own color, and after pelting him with rocks, sticks, etc., until he was senseless, one of the wretches discharged the contents of a loaded gun through the body of the unfortunate victim. Arm the negroes, and occurrences of this kind will be frequent.

—A sad casualty occurred on the 22d inst., about twenty miles from Augusta, resulting in the death of Mrs. Rascover, of Augusta. She was visiting a friend in the country, and while at the breakfast table a little son of her friend came in to show a pistol he had bought. While handling the weapon it was accidentally discharged and the ball entered Mrs. Rascover's temple, killing her instantly. She was a lady of intelligence. A husband and one child are left to deplore her fate.

—Mr. Duncan, who, it will be remembered, was tried over a year ago by a military commission at Savannah for maltreatment of union prisoners at Andersonville, and was convicted and sentenced to fifteen years' imprisonment at Fort Pulaski, has recently succeeded in effecting his escape from that fort, and has not yet been recaptured.

STATE NEWS.

—The West Tennessee Whig says the cedar worms have destroyed four-fifths of the beautiful cedar trees ornamenting the town of Jackson, and asks "who will devise a plan to stop their ravages." The worms resemble caterpillars in size and appearance.

—Six colored men made speeches at Brownsville on Tuesday in favor of Mr. Etheridge.

—There are now four hundred and forty-eight convicts in the state penitentiary, and the number is increasing every day. So says a Nashville paper.

—The Bolivar Bulletin of the 27th says of agricultural interests: Brighter and brighter the prospect becomes. The cool, refreshing rains of yesterday will prove of untold advantage to cotton and corn. We hear many well informed persons say that corn will not command more than fifty cents per bushel in this county next fall. Good bye, extortioners! Farewell!

—The Fayette Falcon says: Capt. Kirk, commanding "meelish" at Winchester, threatens to shoot a man or men, who, he says, groaned on the fourth of July, when the stars and stripes were lowered from the pole erected that day in front of the courthouse.

—The Nashville Gazette of the 29th says: This section of country was visited with a bountiful fall of rain yesterday. It is now safe to say that the corn is made, and such a crop has not been raised in these parts for years.

—A fight between a raccoon and a dog belonging to Marshall Steele, was the attraction at Nashville on Wednesday, and considerable money was staked. The coon was killed by the plucky little dog in half an hour.

—The Herald and Register chronicles the arrival of a lieutenant and forty militia men at Lebanon, but says the officer, unlike the majority of these gentry, says their mission is one of peace, and the command will interfere with no one unless a difficulty is forced upon them.

—The Union and Dispatch says: Jo. Williams spoke to a large and attentive audience at Murfreesboro, on Thursday, with happy effect. All goes well in Rutherford.

Classical and Mathematical SCHOOL FOR BOYS,

In Albemarle County, Va.

H. N. B. WOOD................Principal.
A. J. WOOD................Associate Principal.

SECOND SESSION 1867-8.

THIS School is located one and a-half miles from Greenwood Depot on the Virginia Central Railroad and fifteen miles west of Charlottesville and the University of Virginia. The location is well known as Dr. Gessner Harrison's, Rev. Wm. Dinwiddie, and Prof Edward B. Smith formerly conducted schools at this place. Previously it was a popular summer resort, conducted by John S. Cocke, Esq. Being situated in one of the most beautiful portions of Albemarle county, in the midst of a refined and intelligent community, remote from places of dissipation, and convenient to Churches and Sabbath Schools of the leading denominations, it possesses rare advantages for a Boys' School.

The course of study is designed to be thorough and comprehensive in Ancient and Modern Languages, Mathematics and the English Branches, and also to embrace the elements of Natural and Moral Sciences and History.

The Principal was educated at the University of Virginia, and has had an experience of nearly ten years in teaching in schools of high grade in this State, including Dr. Gessner Harrison's school, Bloomfield Academy, Lynchburg Female Seminary, and Hon. R. M. T. Hunter's private school.

The Associate Principal was also educated at the University of Virginia, and has had an experience of eight years in teaching in the Southern States—formerly in Edgeworth Female Seminary, North Carolina, more recently in Sherman, Texas.

The following recommendation of our school by Professors of the University of Virginia, is respectfully submitted:

UNIVERSITY OF VIRGINIA, April 7, 1867.

In view of our personal acquaintance with Messrs. H. N. B. and A. J. Wood, we do not hesitate cordially to recommend their school to the confidence and patronage of the public.

The sessions commence on the 1st of September and close on the 27th of June. Pupils will be received at any time during the session, with a pro rata deduction in charges. Boys from a distance will be allowed to remain during vacation as boarders in the family of the Principal.

SPECIAL NOTICE.—I will be at the IUKA SPRINGS HOTEL, Iuka, Miss., Mondays, Tuesdays and Wednesdays, each week, from and after this date until the FIRST of September next (1867). Those who desire to meet, consult and place themselves under my treatment there, can do so. Those who prefer coming to this city, can consult me, at my office here, Thursdays, Fridays or Saturdays each week.

My extensive practice, and successful treatment of all forms of CHRONIC DISEASES in the South for many years past—especially the last six years in this city—is sufficient guarantee to those who are yet afflicted, to justify confidence in my ability to accomplish all that medical skill and remedial aid can do.

I do not profess to perform MIRACLES "by the laying on of the hands," NOR CAN ANY OTHER MAN NOW LIVING. Such pretenders can have influence only upon the credulous and weak minded. My treatment, of all cases, is based upon proper scientific medical skill, aided by a life devotion and extensive experience.

My charges are moderate in every case—far more so than many others of the profession who make the effort and yet FAIL to cure.

For many years past I have made the following my principal SPECIALITIES, viz:

CONSUMPTION, and various diseases of the Lungs and Throat,
DISEASE OF THE LIVER,
DISEASE OF THE HEART,
DISEASE OF THE KIDNEYS,
CHRONIC DISEASES of Stomach and Bowels,

RESTORATION of disfranchised citizens to all rights and privileges of which they have been disseized.

PERPETUAL ASSURANCE to the colored race of all the rights of freemen.

NO REPUDIATION by State or Nation of any honest debt.

NO ESTABLISHMENT of Military Despotisms, no enthroning of martial law, no suspension of the writ of Habeas Corpus, no slaying of citizens by Military Commissions, no lettres de cachet, in time of peace.

STRICT SUBORDINATION of the Military to the Civil Power.

NO STANDING ARMIES of States in time of peace.

APPROVAL of the efforts of the President to prevent the annihilation of civil liberty by the revolutionizing of the Government, and to restore the Union of the States; and of all that he has done to defend the Constitution and to maintain the rightful supremacy of the civil law; and charity and allowance for what he has left undone or done amiss.

A CHARITABLE MISSION.

We have had the pleasure of a call from Mrs. J. HADDWIN, of Charleston, S. C., who has come, recommended by citizens of Charleston, to solicit assistance for the suffering, destitute, starving families on John's Island, St. Andrew's Parish, S. C., eight miles from Charleston. We hope that her mission of charity may be crowned with success. None of our people suffered more during the war, or were more completely impoverished than those of the islands on the coast of the Palmetto State, and none more deserve our sympathy. The cries of the suffering only reach us when some messenger comes from them with the sad recital of their destitution and distress, to ask us not to let them die of hunger. Those whose ears are open to these cries may obtain the address of Mrs. HADDWIN at the Worsham House.

THE TYRANNY OF MAJORITIES.

If there is any one great truth that is above all others and more clearly than all others proven by History and demonstrated by reason, it is that no Republic can endure, in which the rule of the majority of numbers is absolute. The tyranny of the majority is worse than the tyranny of the despot. There are always, in the practical workings of despotic governments, checks and limitations of some sort that prevent or temper oppressions, and restrain the ruler from acts of wanton outrage upon human rights. There are no such restraints upon the popular majority in a republic. If the Despot is sane, he does not hate the common people over whom he reigns, but only those powerful nobles or great citizens whom his fears and jealousies lead him to regard as dangerous to the stability of his rule. But there are no hatreds more bitter, or more fruitful of injustices and oppressions than those of parties and factions in a democratic commonwealth. The Despot is not wholly without a conscience, and where fear or real or supposed necessity does not constrain him to be cruel, he may be lenient and even generous. To oppress and humiliate are not the only pleasurable uses of arbitrary power. One may be prouder of the power he wields, because it enables him at his pleasure to pardon and to confer benefits and favours, than because it arms him with the potencies of revenge and punishment. Even among Monarchs, few are ambitious of the crown and immortality of infamy, which cruelty and oppression win for the Tyrant. The popular majority has no conscience and is never tolerant or generous. It is always the slave of its fears and hate, and is cruel, because the responsibility for cruel acts done by its authority and order is divided among too many for any one individual to feel its weight or shrink from incurring it. It delights in oppressing and humiliating those who are odious to it because they oppose or dare to dissent from its notions, and it remorselessly sacrifices those who endeavour to guide and instruct it. Then it is a wild beast that tears and rends the bodies of its victims. It was the popular majority that put SOCRATES to death, and ostracised ARISTIDES, and clamoured for the release of a notorious malefactor, and the crucifixion of JESUS CHRIST.

The whims of the Tyrant are often beneficent and generous; those of the popular majority are almost invariably savage and cruel. They exalt the RIENZIS and MASANIELLOS to dictatorial power, only that they may in a little while howl out execrations upon them as they walk the road that leads to death. They deify the ROBESPIERRES, and MARATS and STEVENSES, only that they may by and by dance in a drunken frenzy of delirious exultation when the world wearies of the butcher, and GOD executes judgment upon him.

The Despot may be a great Captain and wise statesman. He may not only conciliate the people and win their affection, like ALEXANDER, CÆSAR, CROMWELL and NAPOLEON, but he may be, like three of these, an able and wise administrator of public affairs, jealous of the honor of the country he governs, and eager to win for her influence, power, consideration and renown. There were such great men among the Roman Emperors, the Saracenic Caliphs and the European Emperors and Kings. No names are more illustrious than those of HADRIAN, TRAJAN and ANTONINUS PIUS, than AMURATH and SOLYMAN, than CHARLEMAGNE and HENRI IV, and FRANCIS and CHARLES V, FREDERICK II, MARIA THERESA and ELIZABETH of England. The absolute despot is rarely jealous of the intellectual greatness of his subjects. He may avail himself of the services of all; and does not often prefer incompetency and ignorance, for public employment, to capacity, intellectual vigour and learning. The ministers of Monarchs are generally men of eminent ability.

But it is the rule and law of the popular majority to ostracise all the wise and intellectual and learned of the minority, and wholly to deprive the country of their services. No man dares vote for another because he is the best or wisest, but only because he is the choice of the managers of the party; or if, occasionally, the masses revolt for a moment against the managers, it is for the purpose of elevating some Military Chief or other popular idol, utterly unfit, perhaps, to govern. Such a revolt is rarely in the interest of intellectual greatness.

The counsellors of the popular majority are seldom the good, the wise or the great. It is only occasionally that their statesmen and diplomatists compare favorably with those of Monarchies. The CALHOUNS, WEBSTERS and EVERETTS are neither often nor long the Premiers of Republics. The great and good men of the minority are never selected for Ministers or Judges by the elected chiefs of the majority.

We have seen with some interest that the Convention now sitting in New York to frame a Constitution has given some time to the consideration of the obvious mischiefs of the absolute rule of the majority, by which the minority, however large and respectable, is utterly excluded from all voice and weight in the administration of the National affairs. To remedy this, it was proposed to adopt the plan of cumulative voting, suggested by JOHN STUART MILL, in England, which is, in its simplest form, that the voter, having the right to vote for, say, five members of the Legislature or Congress, may cast all his five votes, if he pleases, for one candidate, or divide them between two or more; by which means the votes of the majority would not be thrown away, nor they be wholly unrepresented, as they now are.

It is rapidly being demonstrated, if, indeed, the demonstration is not already complete, that our system, by which the minority, however large, respectable and influential, has no voice in the administration of the Government, must inevitably become a system of faction, oppression and corruption. There is, under such a system, no check upon the indulgence of the passions or political vices of the dominant party. It becomes chronically diseased, its strength becomes its weakness, and its corruptions and misdeeds at last drag it down to ruin. Such was the fate of the Democratic party, which became, years before the war, so generally in the ascendant every where, as to be tyrannical and proscriptive. We had, for thirty years, the absolute dominion, all over the Union, of the popular Democratic majority. No matter by how small a number of votes that party had the majority in a State, it was an autocracy, omnipotent by virtue of the popular principle that the majority has the divine right to govern. It fell by its intestine divisions, at last, and it is now occupying every where the same humiliating and impotent position in which it for years kept the great and capable Whig minority. Radicalism now has the divine authority of numbers, and the Democratic party hardly has a corporal's guard of members of the House of Representatives of the United States, and only a little squad of Senators. With its immense numbers, its immense proprietorship of property, its respectability and its intellect, it is utterly powerless, except to provoke Jacobinism to greater excesses.

We have always taken it to be undeniably true that the majority of votes ought to govern absolutely every where, and that there can be no freedom where there is not universal suffrage. Constitutional liberty has been regarded as inseparable from this and the rule of the popular majority; as utterly dependent for its existence upon every freeman, or at least every free white man going up to the polls and depositing his vote for a candidate nominated by a caucus of party managers. In all the essentials of freedom, either England or France is far more free to-day than the United States, and no country is much less free than this unfortunate State of Tennessee.

The truth is, as we are rapidly finding out, the absolute rule of the popular majority is in the end necessarily fatal to liberty; and it must become much more rapidly so when that majority is largely composed of creatures of an inferior race, utterly ignorant of the principles of constitutional government, and capable of appreciating only the license of freedom. With this, we inevitably have the despotism of anarchy, wielded by a body of the representatives of the populace, and those led and managed by a few violent and unscrupulous men, who rule the body by continual appeals from them to the mob of electors.

The Jacobin leaders and presses speak and legislate by authority of "the people of the United States." It is by virtue of the omnipotent will of that "people" that they trample the Constitution under foot, establish military despotisms over States, and rob the executive office of its Constitutional powers and prerogatives. The United States are now in the same condition as France was when the National Convention grasped all the powers of the State and destroyed the King, who had become by the Constitution the mere hereditary Chief Magistrate of a Republic, because he exercised his Constitutional right of vetoing bills which he disapproved. "King VETO" resisted, attempted to escape, was imprisoned, tried and beheaded. If the President is not beheaded, he will be deposed, if he dares to resist. There is to-day but a single power in the State—the Congress, which is above the Constitution.

And yet the Democratic party is every where in the North numerous and respectable. In many, even of the great States, it is weaker than the Radicals by only a few thousand votes. Thirty-five or forty thousand votes, added to it in different States, would revolutionize the whole country, and the Democrats, having the popular majority, would rule in their turn, and the Radical minority have no voice in public affairs. This is not Liberty or Republicanism. It is not a free government where a powerful minority is wholly in the power of a bare majority, and has no weight in the administration of national affairs.

Here in Tennessee, the Radical popular majority, which is despot, tyrant and master, is obtained by conferring the right to vote on negroes, and disfranchising white men. The amendments to the Constitution, by which these things have been effected, have never lawfully become a part of the Constitution. The whole government of the State is a sheer usurpation, maintained by force and fraud. It is a naked despotism. We do not vituperate Governor BROWNLOW. He is simply the embodiment and exponent of Radicalism. Not against him but against it, the arrows of truth ought to be aimed. He is neither better or worse than others through whom Radicalism acts. If it were the real and actual popular majority that governed here, no men being disfranchised, the Government, administered upon its present principles, would still be a despotism. As it is, the Mis-government is an oligarchy, sustained by force and the bayonet.

That the whole system of pretended free government is a failure, is too evident to be denied. It has been found impracticable to carry it on by means of the intelligence of the country, and the attempt is now made to administer it by the ignorance and want of intelligence of a mass of new voters. This is already a deplorable failure. It is found impossible to conduct the first election in this City peaceably, without calling in a regiment of regular troops to act as a special police. To resort to this is a confession that the people, including the negroes, are not capable of self-government. No one seems to think of the danger of the precedent so set, of the suicidal nature of this invitation to the military power of the nation to interfere as an adjunct to the Police force of the city, without any lawful warrant. We see it stated, indeed, that the citizens hope that General THOMAS will declare martial law, when he has no power, under any circumstances, to do so; and when, if he had that power in case of rebellion or insurrection, there is neither rebellion nor insurrection to warrant it.

The people are satisfied that republican government is a failure; that the government of a popular majority of whites and negroes is a despotism that not only oppresses, but degrades and dishonours; and that a military despotism is far preferable to such a government as that under which the minority have no rights. No man is any longer surprised, the best are hardly indignant, at any usurpations of power. No man dreams of resistance or even protest against a lawless tyranny; and the country demands a CÆSAR.

THE CONSTITUTION A CORPSE.

The total overthrow and annihilation of the Constitution by the unlawful assembly which calls itself the Congress of the United States, is most signally shown by the present condition and pretended creation of the "State" of West Virginia, in connection with the reconstruction villainies of legislation.

These atrocious edicts of Jacobinism rest altogether upon the declaration with which the first of the accursed brood of hell begins, that there are no lawful governments in any of the Southern States. It is assumed that there has been no lawful government in any of them, since the commencement of the civil war; and it is continually acted on as an axiom, that all the acts of President JOHNSON, in establishing temporary governments, were null and void.

The Governments established in four of the States cannot claim President JOHNSON as their author. He had nothing whatever to do with the establishment of new Governments in Arkansas and Louisiana. In Virginia he merely transferred the Governor appointed by President LINCOLN, to the capital of the State. In Tennessee, where President LINCOLN had made him Provisional Governor, the new State Government was established before he became President; and if it was, like those of Arkansas and Louisiana, null and void, (as, on other grounds, all men knew it was,) the present Government of the State is an unlawful usurpation, and Tennessee is not a State of the Union.

The case of West Virginia still more clearly displays the utter disregard of Jacobinism for the Constitution, for law, reason and common sense.

The fourth article of the Constitution of the United States, section three, is in these words:

"New States may be admitted by Congress into this Union; but no new State shall be formed or erected within the jurisdiction of any other State, nor any State be formed by the junction of two or more States or parts of States, without the consent of the Legislature of the States concerned, as well as of the Congress."

West Virginia could not become a State without the express consent of the Legislature of the STATE of Virginia. It is represented in Congress as a State. How did it become so?

At the commencement of the rebellion the territory of the State of Virginia extended to the Ohio river. On the 13th of May, 1862, the Legislature of Virginia passed an act giving the consent of that State to the formation of a new State, called West Virginia, within the jurisdiction of the State. The first section of the act of Virginia is in these words: "That the consent of the Legislature of Virginia be, and the same is hereby given to the formation and erection of the State of West Virginia within the jurisdiction of this State, to include the counties of Hancock, 'etc.,' according to the boundaries and under the provisions set forth in the constitution for the said State of West Virginia and the schedule thereto annexed, proposed by the convention which assembled at Wheeling on the 26th day of November, 1861." The third section of that act provides, "That the act shall be transmitted by the Executive to the Senators and Representatives of this Commonwealth in Congress, together with a certified original of the said Constitution and schedule, and the said Senators and Representatives are hereby requested to use their endeavors to obtain the consent of Congress to the admission of the State of West Virginia into the Union."

On the 31st of December, 1862, Congress, in compliance with the request above set forth, passed an act, the first section of which is in these words:

"WHEREAS, the people inhabiting that portion of Virginia known as West Virginia did, by a convention assembled in the city of Wheeling, on the 26th of November, 1861, frame for themselves a constitution with a view of becoming a separate and independent State; and whereas at a general election held in the counties composing the territory aforesaid, on the third of May last, the said constitution was approved and adopted by the qualified voters of the proposed state; and whereas the Legislature of Virginia by an act passed on the 13th day of May, 1862, did give its consent to the formation of a new state within the jurisdiction of the said state of Virginia, to be known by the name of West Virginia, and to embrace the following counties, to-wit: Hancock," etc.; "and whereas, both the convention and legislature aforesaid have requested that the new state should be admitted into the union, and the constitution aforesaid being republican in form, congress doth hereby consent that the said forty-eight counties may be formed into a separate and independent state; therefore

"Be it enacted, That the state of West Virginia be, and is hereby declared to be one of the United States of America, and admitted into the union on an equal footing with the original states in all respects whatever." The third section of the act of congress provides that "the jurisdiction of the western districts of Virginia shall hereafter be coextensive with, and confined to the limits of the state of West Virginia, and shall be called the District of West Virginia; and the jurisdiction of the eastern district of Virginia shall hereafter be coextensive with the limits, and include the whole of the state of Virginia, and shall be called the District of Virginia."

Congress now annihilates the State of Virginia, declaring that it has had no lawful State Government since the Spring of 1861. It declares that, being subjugated at the close of the civil war, Virginia is obliterated as a State, and has become merely a part of the conquered territory, over which Congress may exercise despotic powers. If she did not cease to be a State by secession and defeat, there is no language that can adequately characterize the villainy and perjury of the legislation which establishes a military despotism over her, and annihilates the Constitution within her limits. In that case, no penitentiary holds such a set of infamous criminals as have lately held their orgies in the Capitol at Washington.

On the other hand, if Virginia is no State, and has been none since early in 1861, West Virginia has never been lawfully erected into a State. And yet this is precisely what the Senators of West Virginia have voted, in voting for the reconstruction acts. In other words they voted themselves no Senators of the United States.

TO THE POLLS.

We have not thought that incitations and urgings directly addressed to Conservative Electors, were necessary, to arouse them to exertion. If the condition of the State, in the bonds of an ignoble oligarchy, if the condition of themselves, the vassals of men whom they despise, obeying laws imposed on them by force and fraud, do not appeal to them in accents eloquent enough to stir their souls, there is little use in words.

Whether we can now succeed is not a question worth considering. Let us do all that an infamous law of disfranchisement permits us to do; let every man who is permitted to vote by the unscrupulous ministers of a base injustice, cast his vote; and if then we are defeated, let us stand ready to try it again and again, until untiring exertion is crowned with success. At last the Right will conquer and political villainy receive its just reward.

We need not urge the maintainance of peace and order. No Conservative, we are sure, thinks of anything else. We have all to lose and nothing to gain, by a riot.

If we are defeated, we can afford to wait. It is a long lane that has no turning. If the Coloured vote is thrown against us now, it will not be long until the negroes find out they have been fooled and cheated. Radical promises will not buy them bread and meat, nor enable them to live in idleness. He who does dog's work will get dog's pay. It is an old French proverb that you do not trap the same fox twice. Feel no anger against them if they vote against you. They are simply deluded and misled, and to be pitied; for it is a sad fate, at any rate, that looks them in the face, and they are making it worse, and a long and bitter repentance more certain, by their folly.

A Card.

WE will at once rebuild our warehouse, and will have it completed by the 15th of September, but by the first day of that month we will be ready to receive goods on store.

The sheds will be divided into fire proof compartments by brick walls, and covered with tin. Those who have patronized us for the last two seasons, and those who may have proposed to do so the approaching one, may rest assured we will be ready for them.

We design establishing a Cotton Compress in connection with our warehouse, upon an adjacent lot, which will be ready by the 1st of October or sooner. The proximity of our establishment to the river renders the handling of cotton so convenient that we can transfer cotton for shipment by river free of drayage. The advantage of the position is equal to one dray-age on all cotton sent for compressment from other warehouses, while on all cotton in our warehouse for compressment there can be two drayages saved, since it would be as easy for us to transfer it from our shed to the Compress as to turn it out in the ordinary way for transfer by drays.

KNABE PIANOS!

THESE unrivalled instruments are fully warranted for seven years, and are for sale at

NO. 375 MAIN ST., (Jackson Block,)
Memphis, Tennessee,
1e9 By LEOPOLD GOEPEL.

To Builders.

THE undersigned proposes to divide fifty or one hundred acres of his land into small lots—say, of five acres each—and to give the alternate lots in payment for improvements constructed upon the others.

The land is situated three miles east of the city of Memphis, at the terminus of Union avenue, fronting on the extension of that avenue, on Trezevant avenue, and on the Poplar street road. It is covered in part with a beautiful growth of forest trees, and is unsurpassed by any other suburban property in point of health, building sites, and the character of the surrounding neighbors.

In undertaking this enterprize builders can, in addition to their usual profits, calculate with certainty on the enhancement of the value of the lots paid them, by the improvement of those adjoining.

Apply to Royster, Trezevant & Co., Ayres Building, 276 Second street, or to me at their office. [jy10 1m] N. M. TREZEVANT.

MISCELLANEOUS.

Closing Drinking Saloons on Election Day.

OFFICE OF SUP'T METROPOLITAN POLICE, MEMPHIS, TENN., July 24, 1867.

Special Order:

Section 40 of "An Act to establish a Metropolitan Police District, and to provide for the government thereof," is as follows:

"That it shall not be lawful for any person to sell or dispose of any intoxicating liquors upon the first day of the week, called Sunday, or upon any day of public election within that part of the said Metropolitan District situated within the limits of the city of Memphis, under a penalty of fifty dollars for each offense, to be sued for and recovered in the name of the Treasurer of the Metropolitan Police, for the benefit of the police fund."

This section of the law will be strictly enforced on the 1st day of August next, and every officer of the Metropolitan Police force is hereby ordered to arrest every person known by him to have been guilty of selling or giving away liquor to be drunk on that day. The law applies to merchants and private citizens as well as to keepers of drinking saloons.
S. B. BEAUMONT,
jy25 te Superintendent Metropolitan Police.

Order Concerning Concealed Weapons.

OFFICE SUP'T METROPOLITAN POLICE, MEMPHIS, TENN., July 23, 1867.

Special Order:

The efforts that are being made by the Committees of the two political parties to make such just and satisfactory arrangements for the approaching election, as will leave no excuse for either party or any member thereof to complain that ample opportunity will not be afforded every legal voter in Shelby county to deposit his ballot, should prompt every citizen of the county to second these laudable efforts, by abstaining from every act that will endanger the peace and good order that are of vital importance to us as a community.

The almost universal practice of carrying concealed weapons, in violation of law, may, if not abstained from during the progress of what will unavoidably be a most exciting election, bring unspeakable sorrow upon our people, and blast for years the commercial interests of our thriving city. Good men of all parties will not hesitate cheerfully to comply with such reasonable orders as will insure tranquility; the evil disposed and vicious MUST BE MADE TO COMPLY or suffer the consequences.

In order that no one may plead ignorance of the law, timely notice is hereby given that the carrying of concealed weapons within the limits of the city of Memphis is a violation of the city ordinances, punishable by fine of not less than five nor more than fifty dollars. Every effort will be made to detect violations of this ordinance, and to bring the guilty parties to justice. Upon the receipt of information that any person is in possession of concealed weapons, the offender will be promptly arrested and confined in the Stationhouse, where he will spend the day, in default of one hundred dollars forfeit. Persons from the country desiring to vote in the city are requested to deposit their arms at the Stationhouses, where they will be kept until the owners have voted and are ready to return home, when they will be promptly returned.

WANTED—THE PATENT
AURORA OIL.
We want men everywhere to study their own INTEREST. The right to manufacture and sell the Patent Aurora Oil in a single county will make more money to the purchaser in three months than the largest farm in your State will make in a whole year. The Aurora Oil actually costs less than one-half the price of Coal Oil, and the illuminating power of the Aurora Oil is as much superior to the Coal Oil as the Coal Oil is to a tallow candle, and is NO MORE explosive than a tallow candle. Any Lamp that will burn Coal Oil will burn the Aurora Oil. It does not smoke the chimney—it does not smell—it will not grease or stain the finest linen—not even white cloth. The material for its manufacture is inexhaustible. One man can make seventy-five barrels per day. No machinery required. We will pay your fare to and from the city of Memphis and bills while here, if we cannot prove all, and even more, than we have stated. A single county is a small fortune to the man of enterprise, and the right to a State is untold worth.

RESIGNED.—We learned yesterday that John Eve, Esq., superintendent of the Memphis city railroad, had resigned his position, and that his assistant, Mr. Campbell, had been appointed pro tem. Mr. Eve is a polite and courteous gentleman. His many friends will regret his severance with the corporation.

THE MANHATTAN.—As will be seen by our advertising columns this morning the Manhattan Savings' bank, successors to Messrs. Levy & Borg, have opened their office at No. 9 Madison street. They do a general banking business and are doubtless well worthy of a fair share of public patronage.

BOTH ARRESTED.—John H. Carnier, a brick mason, and A. Single, a laborer, had a small game of fisticuffs on Howard's row yesterday, during the progress of which both were severely punished. They were brought before Mr. Justice Hall, who fined Carnier $5, and sent Single to the municipal court for trial.

TUITION.—By reference to our advertising columns, this morning, it will be seen that a lady graduate of the Somerville academy desires a situation. From private letters, we learn that she is well qualified, and advise all who desire the services of a lady well qualified in every respect, would do well to take notice and govern themselves accordingly.

RACES.—The race course is being put in order for the September meeting, which will doubtless exceed in interest any that has ever been held here. The Turf congress will have control of the four mile day—the first race under its auspices. We shall speak of racing matters after the election excitement shall have subsided.

BURIAL OF PAUPERS.—The interment of this unfortunate class seems to be somewhat badly managed, as persons have repeatedly complained that they are subject to much inconvenience in hunting up Mr. Noll to give an order for burial. Some system should be practiced whereby the people who pay their taxes should get their rights in having their poorer neighbors properly interred.

ROBBING AN AUCTION HOUSE.—Some enterprising thieves effected an entrance into the auction store of A. S. Levy & Co., at an early hour yesterday morning, by cutting a pannel out of the door. They took a quantity of clothing, and got off with their ill-gotten booty. Strange to say, the work was so quietly done that the clerks sleeping within were not awakened by the burglars.

CAUGHT.—An employee of the Virginia house, (on Adams street,) named Tom Martin, was arrested yesterday charged with stealing a valise, the property of a colored brother named B. Malone. The prisoner and property were found on board the steamer Belle Memphis. An officer of the state will adjudicate upon the question as to the guilt or innocence of the accused ere long.

OUR WEEKLY.—Our MAMMOTH WEEKLY is published to-day, and contains the usual amount of matter, consisting of editorial, the Masonic column, Sunday reading, choice selections, interesting communications from all points, gems of poetry, brevities, and the latest local items of interest. Copies ready for mailing may be had at the counting-room, No. 13 Madison street.

SPEAKING of "a committee of twelve colored ladies," who are raising a fund to purchase a watch to be presented to the most popular colored speaker of Shelby county, the radical organ says: "Mrs. Eliza Porter heads the committee, and Dr. J. W. Chandler is secretary and treasurer." Is the doctor one of the "twelve colored ladies," and if so, which one?

INFANTICIDE—DISCOVERY OF THE MURDERED INFANT IN A PRIVY VAULT—THE EVIDENCES OF VIOLENCE UNMISTAKABLE.—Yesterday, at an early hour, a colored woman discovered the body of an infant in a privy vault on High street, between Washington and Poplar streets. It had lain there for some time, and its skull bore marks of violence. The coroner was summoned, but we have not learned the result of the inquest. The inference is strong that some mother, to avoid the publicity and shame brought on by indiscretion, plunged into deeper crime to conceal her guilt.

A DIRECT CHARGE.—The remarks of Hon. John W. Smith, at the conservative meeting on Tuesday night, charging Gen. W. J. Smith, the radical candidate for the state senate, with selling his vote and influence in the legislature has created quite a sensation. Mr. Smith stated emphatically that Gen. Smith received $5000 in city railroad stock for voting to allow the company to raise the fare from five to ten cents, and offered to prove it by a letter he held in his hand from one of the directors of the street railroad company. He made a similar charge against Floater Richards, who sold himself for a similar amount.

UNFORTUNATE DARKEY.—Yesterday afternoon, when the junction of Main and Madison streets was pretty much crowded by eager politicians arranging their respective programmes, a stalwart negro fellow, who had read, or at least had not profitted by reading the peace orders that have been published, while in a stooping attitude, disclosed the fact that he was "armed and equipped as the law directs," to meet any contingency, a brace of pistols protruding in a very significant way. By accident he was espied by a policeman, who, calling up his mate, led the offending "cullud pusson" to the stationhouse.

INSURANCE—SUICIDE.—The St. Louis Mutual Life Insurance company has recently made a humane and righteous decision. A prominent business man in St. Louis terminated his own life. The company took the case into careful consideration and being satisfied that the act resulted from the overthrow of mental powers, and developed insanity, ordered and paid the full amount of his policy. The directors felt that it is sad enough that life shall sink in dim eclipse, without the added grief of dire poverty. The boundary between reason and madness is a narrow one. A sudden shock, a blow of violence, disappointed hopes, wrecked anticipations—any one of a thousand contingencies may hurl one across it. Then if the victim, incapable of self-control and irresponsible for his deeds shall terminate his life, the St. Louis company says his family shall not be wronged of the policy, for the payment of which they have practised self-denial. This company, one of the strongest in the west, is represented in this city by Messrs. McMahon & Otis.

DRYING SWEET CORN.—Everybody is fond of good ripe roasting ears, and how few take the trouble to put them up for use all the year. As this is the proper time to do it, while the grains are in prime order and the juices are sweetest, we commend the following directions from Coleman's Rural World, to our readers: "Boil the ears a few minutes, (not above five—three is better than five) then cut and lay away to dry. An oven, moderately warm, is the best; or take any method that will soonest dry your corn, being always careful not to burn it, and do not lay in lumps or too thick together, it will soon mold. Around a stove, or where there is a good fire, is a good place, always avoiding dampness, steam, etc. This is all; your corn is fit to put away for next winter's use. In using, you are to restore it, as near as possible, to its original state. This is best done by thoroughly soaking in water, the water retained to boil it in."

Attorneys desirous of bringing suits to the next term of the United States court would do well to bear in mind that this is the last week for service of cases to be tried at the next term.

CONSERVATIVE MEETING.

GREENLAW OPERA HOUSE CROWDED.

The Most Enthusiastic Meeting Ever Held in Memphis.

Col. Gantt, Col. Martin, Col. Bullock, Hon. J. W. Leftwich and Others Address the Meeting.

Everybody Encouraged—The Right Must Prosper.

At an early hour large crowds began to assemble in the vicinity of Union and Second streets. Several bands of music paraded the streets, headed and followed by large and magnificent transparencies, among which might be noticed the following: "Universal Suffrage, Down with Brownlowism," "The Union as it Was," "Confiscation a Dead Letter," "Farms for All Who Can Gain Them by Industry." The Opera hall was filled to its utmost capacity with one of the best audiences that ever graced its walls. A large number of colored people were present.

On motion, W. H. Passmore was called to the chair. He, previous to introducing the speakers, gave it as his opinion that our gallant standard bearer, Emerson Etheridge, would be elected governor. To the colored people present he desired to say that the humbug stories told them by the radical party were calculated to mislead them and he warned them to beware.

Col. John Martin was introduced and gave a description of the meeting at Bartlett and colored as well as white were enthusiastic for the conservative ticket. He believed from all that he could learn, that the death-knell of radicalism was sounded in Tennessee; he thought there was no doubt that the whole ticket would be elected. Col. Gantt was next called upon, and said:

Ladies and Gentlemen:
I ask your attention for a short time until I speak to you about the great questions that lie just before us. I shall not undertake to discuss the issues that are involved in the canvass, but to utter some word of encouragement that will inspire you with hope, that will make you believe a brighter day will dawn, that the long night of darkness will part, and that sunshine of a better era will dawn upon us. I cannot speak to you of politics as we spoke in the olden time. The question which agitates you to-night is not like those of old; it is of tremendous importance and significance. To-morrow, gentlemen of the jury, [applause and laughter throughout the house] Ladies, I made a slight mistake. It is my daily habit to address juries of the male sex, and if I have addressed you as gentlemen of the jury, I beg your pardon. [Applause and laughter.] I wish you, ladies and gentlemen, and you, colored people, to understand that I feel as solemn as if I was addressing a jury. Perhaps I ought not to do so. Perhaps some other person, feeling unembarrassed—some voters, for I am not enfranchised; but I trust when to-morrow night comes I will be unshackled and hundreds of others with me. [Great applause.] The great work of to-morrow! I know how the people's mind has been burdened. I know the great weight that has oppressed us. Gloom and sorrow weighed the people down. Can we get rid of it? Many good men remain in the ship, upon your farm. Many a good mother in sorrow and silence reminds her chamber. Can we do any thing? Ah! but you can; you can do every thing. The fruit is ripe. Before to-morrow you may pluck it; you may pluck a glorious victory. [Great applause.] To-morrow morning, mothers and wives, will you tell your husbands to go forth; four out of five may be disfranchised, but tell them they are gifted with a tongue; heaven has gifted them with a mind and reason; tell them to go out and reason with their white fellow-citizens, to fight the battle with error. Error is against you, mother and sister. Send forth the males of the family, and if they cannot vote, let them reason, let the moral influence, the great power of the country, go forward, and when it cannot control and manage the elections, we have got no country. Will you do it? [A voice, very emphatically, yes, and applause.] If you do, the victory is yours. Do you suppose that your colored friend has no intellect; that your white friend is unthinking? Why, certainly you can reason with him and convince him just as you did before the war. What do you want? Light. I love an universal suffrage; you want peace, a better administration, crime abolished, vice driven away, error banished from the community. If you do, rise up and struggle for it; put forth your arm and strike for it. I want the radical party beaten to-morrow; I want the name expunged from the vocabulary—it is an ugly name; [applause] wipe it clean out, and let the radical alone when you wipe it out he shall not be harmed. Tell him to join fences with you, plow in the next furrow with him, and pray that Deity may send down the same fertilizing rain upon his and your own crops. Tell him to come to your church and worship with you, but wipe out his politics. [Long and loud applause.] Are you able to do it? [Voice, "Yes." Why, certainly you have it in your power, and we must do it. [Voice, "And we shall do it."] This is our country—it is the white man's country, it is the colored man's country, it is for all; and we shall take care and see that it is a better country to-morrow than to-day. Why? Because we mean to have better politics. We are going to send the same member to congress and to the state legislature, and have better laws and light taxes. Ah! the cotton tax; we will wipe that off. [Great applause] so that the colored man, when he is to hoe and dig, shall get the earnings of his labor. But I hear some good gentleman say, who has lived a long time "Oh, we cannot do anything; let us fold our arms and allow the ship to drift along." Oh no, it is a noble ship; do not do it; put your most skillful pilot at the helm; save her, she has most precious freight. Whose country is this? It is ours. What a country you have, what rivers, what mountains and valleys, what institutions you still have left, railroads, telegraphs, churches and school houses, what a mighty people you are. Lying from ocean to ocean, from the Canadas to the land of the bananas. What a country is this? It is the white man's and the black man's country. It is a great inheritance. Are you going to give up these railroads, telegraphs, and farms, and let them relapse into barbarism? Are you going to abandon your churches, learning, wealth and power? Are you going to drift into darkness and barbarism? Will you let the light of science, of learning and liberty in the western hemisphere be extinguished? What is your duty? I will tell you. Fathers, mothers and sisters—go to the colored man, say to him, step up here on this platform of equality with us; you have a right to vote. What you most need is cultivation. You must have school houses and churches; you must have farms, and you shall have them when, by your industry, you earn them. When you are sick we will come and see you—my doctor shall come and prescribe for you, if you have no doctor. We will all live in the same way, and will all live under the same great flag. And when you have done that, instead of going down to ruin, instead of the proud old ship of state being engulped in the maelstrom of destruction, we shall go on to unequaled and inconceivable prosperity and happiness. Who says you are the enemy of the colored men, that you will spill his blood? Southerners, tell men that your civilization is at war with such charges; that there is not a southern man who would rob him of his rights. Every southerner would see him better off, better educated; he will help them and do all he can for them. Now the southerner raises two bales of cotton and the negro one, and three bales will now come to the city, and the drays in the city will haul it. The colored man's money is just as good to draymen as the white man's, the draymen, merchant, and everybody, will be benefitted; his happiness is yours, and your happiness his. That is the true theory. You can help him. Ah! we hit these little hot-horse politicians that have no fences. [Laughter and applause.] I will tell you, as I stand here in the presence of Almighty, to night, that all these men want, is your vote. They cannot take care of you when you are sick. [Voice, never, never.] Your prosperity is my prosperity; the prosperity of the whites is yours. Gentlemen, I can imagine in the future a picture of such prosperity and glory, as was never experienced by this great country of ours. Yes, when the fierce fires of radicalism shall have died out, when peace shall have returned, when you shall need no more soldiers, no more detectives, no thieves to catch thieves, then there would be fewer courts and less criminal trials. When the colored and white man shall have a home and they shall all work together; when all these forests and plains shall teem with abundance; when divine providence shall be in a good humor with us and shall smile upon us, when Memphis shall boast of 140,000 inhabitants, when the projected railroad shall connect the Atlantic with the Pacific and Memphis shall be the great center of commerce east and west, from whence shall stretch out the great arteries of commercial prosperity to all parts—north, south, east and west, then it will be your country; it will be mine; it will be the black man's home, and he need not go to the radicals, his friend only on election day. He need not stick his head into a loyal league. [Applause.] They are his sunshine friend, his political friend. I will tell you colored people what they want: they want your votes, they want to use you to climb into office with, they want the loaves and fishes—if you ask them for any they say "nary loaf or fish!" [Applause]. Go to-morrow and vote; nobody will keep you from voting. I have heard men say they were afraid to go and vote, because they have been told in the loyal league that the people would not let them vote. Don't you be afraid—try it one time; stand by your friends and they will stand by you; vote for your old friends. [Applause.] Are you going to have more ships, more wealth, more power? Are you going to drive away passion, crime and error, and let truth reign? Do you want peace and fraternal happiness? Do you want to live every man under his own vine and fig tree, with none to molest him or make him afraid? Do you want militia, cotton tax? Do you want Gov. Brownlow? [Numerous voices, No, No, No. Voices from the colored people, Brownlow, Brownlow. Sensation.] There are a few voices I see that shout for Brownlow; that is all they can do. [Applause.] They think they will get the forty acres of land. [Great applause and laughter.] I don't blame them, the poor deluded men, but the foul wretches that take men into loyal leagues; the infamous wretches who take the colored men into the loyal league to induce him to vote for Brownlow, he is the man who is to blame. The colored man is mislead by these foul demagogues, those pestilential wretches, who, as he climbs into power, soils the steps, but when he gets there, if he walks up the carpeted halls, he will soil the carpet he treads upon. He is responsible. He never labors, he don't work, he don't argue, he don't meet you in public. Look for him at night in the "Loyal League" as head Glos Cutis. No, my colored friend, you will never get the land they promise you. To-morrow, the telegraph will announce that Etheridge has cleaned up Brownlow, and pretty soon you will go over to Mr. Levy's or Mr. Trezevant's, and you will find old loyal league trumpery for sale at auction. [Laughter and applause.] A set of second hand radical politics for sale; who will give anything for them, going, going. Go, colored man, to-morrow, and vote as you see fit. I tell you to-night you are deceived. We will bear no unkind feelings toward you whether we are successful to-morrow or not; I beg of my friends to bear no ill will toward the radicals; I beg of you to make no war upon the radicals in the community; let him toil, provided he will work in the daytime. The law will protect him; they won't hurt anybody; there won't be enough of them to-morrow night to make a grand jury, and one half of them will be getting certificates to prove they never were radicals.

In conclusion, he advised his colored friends if they desired peace, plenty and prosperity, to join hands with the conservative party and thus prosper alike with their old friends. He concluded his speech amid loud cheers.

Robert Wardlow, a colored man, was well received and made a short speech, addressed particularly to his colored brethren. He discussed Brownlow's record and placed him in no favorable light as regarded the colored people.

Tom Avent, another colored orator, next spoke, and said he had labored among his colored friends for some time past, and found that they were inclined to vote the conservative ticket. He advised his colored friends of both parties to go to the polls and vote open and above board, irrespective of any influence.

Hon. J. W. Leftwich being loudly called for appeared and said that the gathering to-night looked more like they were assembled to celebrate a victory than to go into a contest. He did not desire to make a political speech, but merely wished to say that he was before them now as a candidate for the last time under any circumstances. Accident had brought him to the surface. If elected he would faithfully and honestly perform his duty. His opinion was that the result of this contest would be favorable to the conservative party.

Col. Jno. Bullock next addressed the meeting. He did not wish to discuss the political questions of the day; he would raise his voice and record his vote in favor of law and order; he cared little for the past record of either of the candidates for the gubernatorial chair; all he wanted to know was, how stand they here to-day? on comparing the two men no right thinking man, who had the good of his country at heart, could support Brownlow; he regarded the issues of this election as pregnant with most important influences in regard to the future destinies of the state; all had now returned to the old flag, and if we did but do our duty, prosperity was in store for us all, and the sun of happiness would again shine upon this afflicted land. He urged upon all to go the polls, conduct themselves with becoming propriety, and see to it that nothing occurred to cast a stigma upon the city of Memphis.

Col. Nabors was introduced and delivered a short and forcible address which was well received and heartily applauded.

Eli Glass, a colored man, next spoke, and cautioned his colored friends to vote for their own interests and with the people among whom they had been raised. He had worked for Mr. Brownlow five months, and had never been paid for his labor. The radical party wanted the votes of the colored people, but did not want to give them any office. He wanted to rule in the carriage, and the negro to pull the traces.

Hon. Dan Able next spoke. He said we were now on the eve of a great election, and he believed all would pass off quietly. He cautioned colored men from Arkansas and Mississippi, who it was said, had been registered here, about voting, as the punishment for such a crime was imprisonment in the penitentiary.

Alderman Thos. O. Smith being called upon, said it gave him joy to meet so many of his fellow-citizens on this occasion from all points in the state. News was hourly arriving of the bright prospects of the conservative cause. At the conclusion of his remarks the meeting adjourned.

CALLED MEETING OF THE BOARD OF HEALTH.—A special meeting of the board of health was held at the office of Dr. Knode, yesterday afternoon. The following gentlemen were present: Drs. Irwin, Pittman, Knode, Rogers, A. K. Taylor, Sims, Grant, Brown and Frayser.

The meeting was called to order by Dr. Irwin, and the proceedings of the previous meeting were read by the secretary, Dr. Rogers, and on motion of Dr. Taylor, were adopted.

On the motion of Dr. Taylor, the drug store of Dr. Greenfield, in the eastern portion of the city, was added to the six already designated as dispensaries.

Also one authorizing the dispensing druggists named, to fill the prescriptions of all regular physicians for the poor.

A resolution from Dr. Sims prescribing a disinfectant to be recommended by the board, provoked an animated discussion. Dr. Grant gave it as his opinion that disinfectants will not prevent cholera, and stated that he did not concur in the general opinion that it arose from the surroundings, and instanced a house on Mulberry street (No 104) where six persons had died the night before, which he had examined personally, and found the buildings and grounds cleanly, lime having been used freely. Dr. Irwin and Dr. Sims argued in favor of the adoption of the resolution, and the use in buildings and premises of some disinfectants. Dr. Knode also argued very forcibly that the use of disinfectants be recommended, and stated that in his opinion leaky cisterns and well water had been the sole cause of the recent cases, and thought the board should recommend that the people should be urged to use no water except pure cistern water. After some further discussion the following amendment was offered by Dr. Irwin and adopted:

Resolved, that the secretary of the board furnish to the sanitary police the proper disinfectants to be used in houses or localities where the cholera appears.

By Dr. Grant:
Resolved, that the board of health recommend to the people of Memphis to disinfect their water closets by a strong solution of sulphate of iron (copperas) dissolved in water and thrown into them once a week. Adopted.

By Dr. Knode:
Resolved, That one physician be appointed to prescribe for and visit the indigent sick of each ward, to be selected from the members of the board of health or otherwise, and that they shall have regular office hours, which shall be published in the city papers, and said physicians shall receive as compensation $200 per month, in currency. Which was adopted, Dr. Grant voting in the negative.

The board then proceeded to elect the physicians, with the following result:
For the
First Ward—Dr. O. R. Early.
Second Ward—Dr. James Williams.
Third Ward—Dr. S. P. Dunn.
Fourth Ward—Dr. A. Rives.
Fifth Ward—Dr. R. L. Butt.
Sixth Ward—Dr. C. B. Knode.
Seventh Ward—Dr. F. L. Sims.
Eighth Ward—Dr. Joe. H. Nuttall.
Who are to be instructed to go to work at once, under the supervision of the board, after which the meeting adjourned.

THE COURTS.

CRIMINAL COURT.—The jury in the case of B. H. Lynch, after being out all night and the greater portion of yesterday, returned a verdict of not guilty. The jury and prisoner were discharged, and thereupon court adjourned to Friday next. The Rosser habeas corpus case again came up, and after an examination of a few witnesses, was again continued to some time next week. The most important feature of the investigation in this case seems to be its extraordinary length, which, when ended at last, will only result in the admission to or denial of bail to the prisoner until the case is regularly reached for trial. To the lawyers engaged in the case it affords a fine field for practice as the innumerable little discussions which have arisen throughout the progress of the case covered a vast field of inquiry on the subject of insanity as a defense against punishment for crime.

The Mississippi Diarrhea Cordial.—We call the attention of our readers again to this wonderful remedy, which combines within itself sterling attributes—its unparalleled success in the rapid and permanent cure of cholera, cholera morbus, diarrhea, and all bowel affections, have brought out many imitators who are endeavoring to supplant this old friend and well-tried medicine. Their efforts are in vain, as thousands can testify that its virtues are indisputable and defy contradiction. MANSFIELD & HIGBEE, Sole Proprietors.

No matter in what shape these forms of disease is exhibited, this searching and unerring remedy disperses it from the system. It cures by eradication, not suppression, and has deservedly been accepted as the great "Southern Antidote" to these most prevalent disorders that infest our sunny clime. The Aurora Oil.—The introduction of this oil is destined to work a great revolution in the lighting world. It possesses many advantages over all other means of light, from the fact that it is much cheaper than gas or coal oil, is free from any offensive smell, and best of all, non-explosive. We have examined it thoroughly, and without hesitation pronounce it superior to anything extant for the purposes for which it is recommended. It is also superior to turpentine for paints, oils and varnishes. The proprietors, Messrs. H. C. Dewitt & Co., have an office at 24 Madison street, but they dispose of state and county rights to manufacture only. Their patent has seventeen years to run. Territory is being sold rapidly, and parties desiring to make money will find this a good investment. Don't forget, 24 Madison street, up stairs. ap21 tf

GROVER & BAKER'S
Celebrated
Elastic Stitch and Lock Stitch

SEWING MACHINES.
Why the Grover & Baker Machine is Best.
1. It is more simple, durable, and less liable to derangement than others.
2. It sews from ordinary spools, and no rewinding of thread is necessary.
3. It sews with equal facility all fabrics, the most delicate and the heaviest, and with all kinds of thread, silk, cotton or linen.
4. Its seam is so strong and elastic that it never breaks, even on the bias.
5. It fastens both ends of the seam by its own operation.
6. Its seam, though cut at every sixth stitch, remains firm, and neither runs or ravels in wear.
7. Its seam is more plump and beautiful, and retains its plumpness and beauty after washing better than any other.
8. Its seam can be removed in altering garments, after proper instruction, without picking or cutting them.
9. Watching and varying the tensions upon the threads necessary in other machines is unnecessary in this. The tension being once adjusted on the Grover and Baker Machine, any amount of sewing may be done without change.
10. It makes beautiful embroidery without any change of arrangement, simply by inserting threads of suitable sizes and colors for this purpose. It is the only machine that both embroiders and sews perfectly.

The Buntyn HOMESTEAD LANDS FOR SALE.
WE have the pleasure of placing on the market those very desirable and valuable lands, so well known to the community as the Homestead Tract of the late Geraldus Buntyn, Esq., situated at the first station on the Memphis and Charleston railroad, five miles east of the city. The improvements, with about twenty acres of land, have been recently sold to Hume F. Hill, Esq., who now resides upon the premises. The balance of the tract, consisting of about 480 acres, has been laid off in lots varying in size from five to ten acres, fronting upon broad avenues, and laid off so as to secure the greatest amount of comfort. The trains of the Memphis and Charleston railroad afford the opportunity of going in and out of the city, from and to Buntyn's station, four times a day, so as to make a residence at this point almost as convenient as to live in the city itself.
The choice can now be had of lots wholly or part in original forest, or in field,
In Exchange for City Property.
The executors are directed by the Will to sell this place and invest in city property, and we will receive propositions to exchange for either improved or vacant lots in the city.
To all parties looking for a suburban residence, we do not think any property more desirable can be found, in regard to health, convenience and good neighborhood, within the same distance from the city.
The terms will be made very liberal and easy, and the prices low to parties desirous of buying for a residence. Plans of the subdivision [illegible]

MEMPHIS APPEAL

ARIEL.
[ALBERT PIKE.]

XLII.
I shuddered for a time, and looked again,
Watching the day of that eventful dawn;
Wild WAR had broken his adamantine chain,
Bestrid the steed of ANARCHY, and drawn
His bloody scimetar; a fiery rain
Of blood poured on the land, and scorched the corn;
Wild shouts, mad cries, and frequent trumpets rang,
And iron hoofs thundered with constant clang.

XLIII.
I saw and heard no more, for I did faint,
And would have fallen to the earth, had not
ARIEL stooped and caught me as I went.
He raised the sail, and left that fearful spot;
And while into the soft, cool air I leant,
Drinking the wind that followed the swift boat,
He said to me, with gentle voice and clear,
Ringing like tones æolian in my ear,

XLIV.
"Thou hast not seen the woes that are to come,
The long, dark days, that lengthen into years,
The reign of rapine, when the laws are dumb,
The bloody fields, the hearth-stones wet with tears.
The starving children, wrangling for a crumb,
The cries of ravished maidens, that God hears,
And does not heed, the blackened walls that stand
Amid the graves, all o'er the wasted land.

XLV.
Go, tell your misled people the sad fate,
The bitter woes and sharp calamities,
That in the swiftly-coming Future for them wait,
The fruit of Faction's sordid villainies;
Of discord and dissension, greed and hate,
And all that in man base and brutal is,
Unless they guard, with sleepless vigilance,
Their liberties against such dire mischance."

XLVI.
He said no more. Meanwhile we kept along
The elemental greenness of the ocean,
Whose great breast throbbed and trembled with the strong,
Stern pulses of its vibratory motion;
Across still bays, mid many a tangled throng
Of misty isles, sleeping like sweet devotion
In woman's heart, bordered with low white shores,
Running off inland with green level floors.

XLVII.
We saw gray water-plants that fanned the deep,
With golden hair, far down beneath the boat;
Caverns, shell-paven, where the Naiads sleep;
Clouds of thick light through the great vast that float;
Great emerald-rifts, wherein the sea-foam keeps
A constant murmur of æolic notes;
Broad beds of coral, rosy as the Dawn,
The radiant sea-flowers thick on many a lawn.

XLVIII.
And then we left the boat, and quick descended,
Through the clear air, as we had first arisen,
Unto my home, wherein I found extended
That which again became my sad soul's prison;
Then with a brief adieu he upward wended,
While far behind long lines of light did glisten,—
Leaving me meditating on my dream,
Which still like deep and dark reality doth seem.

FINANCIAL AND COMMERCIAL.

OFFICE OF THE DAILY APPEAL, }
MEMPHIS, July 31, 1867. }

Gold is some lower than on yesterday and sales were lighter. Brokers bought the small amounts presented at 39c and in some instances but 28½c was paid.

Silver scarce, buying at 28 to 29c.

There has been no change in city scrip. The demand is only moderate and supply large; 58c is the buying rate; selling at 60c.

Dealers appear to be well supplied with county warrants and refuse to buy. We quote them nominal at 76 to 78c; selling by brokers at 82c.

Police scrip is also unsought. Dealers do not buy. Selling at 62 to 65c.

Exchange is offered in fair amounts. Buying at par and checking at ¼ premium.

Bonds and stocks are unchanged with very few sales reported. Those are confined to small amounts and are not an indication of value. The uncurrent money market has not changed.

The liabilities of the Unadilla bank are estimated at $200,000. It was chartered about twelve years ago under the old safety fund law of the state, and for some years took its national character, with a capital of $150,000, and power to increase it to $250,000. Its officers were Arnold B. Watson, president, and Clark J. Hays, cashier. The president, it is said, owned $100,000 of the capital, and the balance was in the hands of the cashier and some relatives at Albany. It is reported that the assets of the bank will not go far toward meeting its liabilities. The redemption agency is said to be the house of Watson & Co., leather dealers, in Albany. The New York Herald says fast living on the part of somebody connected with the bank, together with wild and unprofitable speculations in produce and mining stocks, contributed to its downfall.

According to a statement of the treasurer of Georgia, that state has assets valued at over $12,000,000, while its total indebtedness is only $6,256,135.

A correspondent of the London Economist writing from Paris says:

"The international monetary conference has concluded its sittings. No official publication of its deliberations, or of the resolutions to which it has come, has been made. This is too much to be regretted; but it is the fashion in this country to keep secret matters that not only require no secresy, but to which publicity would be positively advantageous. In spite of the mystery observed I hear that the president of the conference, Prince Napoleon, the vice-president, M. de Parieu, and the majority of the members, inclined to the system recommended by M. Michel Chevalier, in his speeches and writings—namely, to make gold the standard everywhere, and to make the coins in accordance with the French metrical system which has already been adopted by some nations, and to which others are gravitating.

From this it would follow that France would have to remodel her gold coins, which are not now based on that system, and that by so doing she could obtain a 25f one, which would very nearly approach in value the principal coins of England, the United States and Austria.

COTTON—The market was brisk today, and sales were very fair. The offerings during the early part of the day were better than for some time back; several lots of middling were taken at 26c. RIVER MATTERS.

WEATHER AND BUSINESS.

Yesterday was clear and pleasant, like the day preceding. Business on the landing was very dull with no arrivals during daylight. This is, we believe, the first instance of the kind reported for many months. The river at this point falls slowly. The Ohio at Louisville was at a stand on Tuesday, with but three feet eight inches in the canal and eight inches on the rocks at the head of the falls. The upper Mississippi is falling. We have no late advices from the Arkansas, but it was very high when last heard from. The late rains may have kept it up longer than usual, but it is doubtless falling fast at this writing.

Arrivals.
Steamer Adam Jacobs, St. Louis.
Departures.
Steamer Argonaut, Louisville.
" Victor, Hailes Point.
Boats in Port.
Rowena, Celeste and Adam Jacobs.

MISCELLANEOUS.

We learn that Mr. John Sullivan goes out as second clerk of the St. Patrick, in the place of Jimmy Thompson, who takes charge of the office of the Celeste. The wild Irishman looks very grand in her new harness, and will be at our landing on Saturday to load for Vicksburg, for which place she leaves on Tuesday next.

On Tuesday morning the tug "We Come to Stay," while landing a raft at the lower levee, caused the Rose Hambleton to break her lines and go adrift. She, as well as the tug Nettie Jones, caught the Rose and towed her back to the landing. Yesterday the owners of the Nettie, Brown & Jones, made a claim for salvage. It will be a good days work if they recover, but it is a species of sharp practice which will not win in this part of the world.

The Louisiana has gone to Paducah, where she will go upon the ways and refit for the fall trade.

The Rowena leaves for White river on Saturday at 5 p.m., and will ply regularly in the trade, leaving this port each Saturday. We now have a line of packets leaving this port twice a week. They are not surpassed anywhere, and as they are identified with our city we hope that they will be appreciated. Capt. John B. Davis commands, and in the office will be found Mr. Sharp and Milt Harry, both clever and competent clerks.

The Silver Cloud will leave for New Orleans this day at 5 p.m. Capt. Charles Mathews is master.

The Minneola will be in port to-night. She will leave for Cincinnati on Friday evening. Capt. Miller commands.

The "Yawcobs" will leave the packet company's wharfboat to-day at 5 p.m. for Cairo and St. Louis. The Jacobs has been very handsomely fixed since her last visit to Memphis. Capt. Crane is in command and Frank Banksmith is in the office.

The citizens along the lower part of the Arkansas river are under obligations to Capt. Reese Pritchgrd, of the Celeste, for his attention to their interests. We learn that the captain has been carrying the mail along this river for months, and the only remuneration received is the thanks of the people. The citizens of Pine Bluff had not received a Memphis mail in two weeks before the last trip of the Celeste. Acts of generosity like the above will not be forgotten, and Capt. Pritchard will soon reap a liberal reward from his friends along the Rackensack.

This is election day, and order will no doubt be enforced. We see that Jim Bunce is a volunteer and on the staff of Beaumont. Few men will face death more promptly than Jim, and we hope that he will be placed where he desires to be, at the post of danger.

Mr. Aleck Waddell, formerly of the Dan. Able, returned home yesterday from a short visit to Chicago, Quincy and Nauvoo. He was disgusted with Chicago, and reports that moral city as outstripping Sodom or that other place where they had no steam fire engines.

The hotels of Minnesota are said to be full of southerners. They find that a visit to the beautiful prairies, romantic falls and clear trout brooks of that country is far more enjoyable than the blaze enjoyments of Saratoga or the so-called pleasures of Newport. Many Memphians are among the visitors, and all of them speak in terms of highest praise of the Northeren line of packets from St. Louis to St. Paul. One of those steamers is commanded by Memphis men. We allude to the Hawk Eye State, a packet not surpassed for speed or elegance and comfort of staterooms by any of our southern palaces. Capt. Jones Worden, who commanded the Platte Valley when she belonged to the St. Louis packet company is master of the Hawk Eye, and that fact alone will commend her as highly to our people as anything we could say of her. Mr. Alick Havelin, for a long time clerk of the Darling, is the chief officer of the Hawk Eye's office. All our merchants remember Aleck and his pleasant greeting. We do not doubt but that all the boats in the line are fine, but we would commend the Hawk Eye and her officers especially to Memphians, as they will meet old friends who will take delight in pointing out all objects of interest along the river.

The sidewheel steamers Quickstep, Armada and Mayflower, now composing the Evansville and Cairo packet line, will lay up next week, and their places supplied by the sternwheel steamers Charmer, Sam Orr and Nashville. This programme will continue during the low water season.

The steamer Dean Richmond, plying on the North river, came near being destroyed on Saturday last. A fireman put a quantity of pine wood under the boilers to dry. When the steamer reached port near Poughkeepsie a most threatening fire broke out, which, however, was subdued by strenuous exertions with the donkey engine.

The Louisville Democrat says: The Norman was boarded at Cincinnati by a lot of "Paul Prys," and condemned as a freighter. She will go on the docks here and undergo a thorough overhauling. There was nothing the matter with the Norman, more than she is owned in Louisville.

There was nothing the matter with the J. D. Perry when she was scratched at Louisville, only that she was owned in this city.

The La Crosse Democrat says: Saturday, on the up trip of the Key City, of the white collar monopoly line, Mr. Rhodes, secretary and treasurer of the line, en route to St. Paul, was robbed while sleeping of a very long, large, valuable gold watch chain, valued at several hundred dollars. No one knows who stole it, but Davidson, president of the line, was on the boat at the time.

The above is not very complimentary to Davidson. The same paper says further of him:

He is to ordinary steamboat men what panel thieves are to burglars, and there is not enough of him to run even the Chippewa river successfully. Spread him between St. Paul and New Orleans, and the aforesaid spread will be thinner than the buzz of a mosquito after the largest of God's worlds had rolled over it once. His boats are lousy—we can prove it by testimony of ladies and gentlemen of this city. His tables are scantily set—we can prove it by the public. His charges are exhorbitant—we prove it from his tariffs. He pays no taxes here—we prove by the returns. He or his employees steal wheat in transitu by his boats—we prove it by shippers. He is a liar—we prove it by his words and promises broken. He is a swindler—we can prove it by gentleman of this city with whom he has had business. His boats are unsafe—we prove it by the explosions thereon and the judgments obtained against him by those who have been maimed thereby.

SECOND DRAWING
—OF THE—
Southern Asylum
LAND COMPANY,
TO TAKE PLACE AT HERNANDO, MISS.,
AUGUST, 1867.

THE First Drawing, which took place at Hernando, Miss., on the 15th inst., was attended with unusual success, when it is remembered that but a few weeks elapsed from the inception of the enterprise to that event. $17,000 worth of tickets having been sold, a like amount of property was drawn for, under the supervision of gentlemen selected by the ticket holders present. The utmost harmony and good feeling pervaded those present, and, as will be seen from the subjoined certificate of the Managers, the affair was conducted to a close in a most gratifying and satisfactory manner:

HERNANDO, MISS., June 15, 1867.

We hereby certify that the above report of the First Drawing of the Southern Asylum is correct, and that the proceedings were characterized by a spirit of fairness and justness unsurpassed by any drawing of which we have any knowledge. The Managers of the Company placed the tickets and wheels under our sole management and control.

PRO BONO PUBLICO!
The attention of all Sufferers is invited to the
ANTI-MALARIAL
BITTERS
—A SURE REMEDY—
IS here presented to the public for Intermittent Fever (Chills and Fever), and all diseases arising from malarial poisoning. It is now well ascertained that nearly every derangement of the human system common in malarial districts, is, to a greater or less extent, dependent upon malaria poisoning, consequently, any medicine against that will serve as a specific against this poisoning must strike at the root of the disease which is fostered and developed through its instrumentality.
ANTI-MALARIAL BITTERS
is an entirely original compound, having superiority over other remedies from the mode of combining the medicinal agent.
This Medicine has been extensively used, and up to the present time has in no instance failed to give the most unqualified satisfaction.
If the directions are strictly followed no case of Intermittent Fever (Chills and Fever), no matter of how long standing, or of what degree of obstinacy, will fail to succumb to the use of these Bitters.
As a Tonic and Prophylactic
THE REMEDY IS WITHOUT EQUAL.
Severe cases of Indigestion, Derangements of Absorption and Assimilation, Biliousness, Uneasiness, Distension, Weight and Pain in the region of the Stomach, Loss of Appetite, Lassitude, Muscular and General Debility, Disturbed Circulation, Loss of Blood, Syncope, Nervous Irritability, Mental Depression, etc., occurring in a malarial district, or in a patient who has spent some time where Chills and Fever prevail, will readily yield to the use of this unequaled Medicine.
Our own confidence in the merits of these Bitters, added to a testimony universal in the case of sufferers who have used them, and accord to the Remedy their unqualified approval, has induced us, at a very large expense, to secure the SOLE RIGHT to manufacture this article from the original recipe, which recipe has been experimented upon and satisfactorily proven to be superior to any compound in the treatment of the above mentioned diseases, by one of the most learned Physicians in the United States.
D. T. EVERTS & CO.,
Sole Manufacturers & Proprietors,
PETERSBURG, VA.
Read the following from among the many Certificates received by us:
FORD'S DEPOT, VA., Nov. 29, 1866.
I hereby certify that I have been suffering for over two weeks from severe attacks of Chills and Fever, for which I had taken medicine and gained but temporary relief, the chills coming on again in a few days. The Anti-Malarial Bitters were recommended to me, and I commenced taking them at once, the use of which was marked by immediate and certain relief from chills, since which time I find my general health improved in a very satisfactory manner.
I can conscientiously recommend the use of these Bitters to all sufferers from Intermittent Fever (fever and ague), as a certain cure.
A. S. VAIDEN.
NEAR FORT CLIFTON, VA., Nov. 29, 1866.
Dear Sir:—Having a severe attack of Chills contracted on the Lower Appomattox river, I tried your Anti-Malarial Bitters, and in a week was relieved entirely from them. I cheerfully recommend it to those who are bothered with this disease. Respectfully and truly yours,
E. HUGEE.
E. T. EVERTS, Petersburg, Va.
The following certificate from S. W. Britton, Esq., speaks for itself:
PETERSBURG, VA., March 7, 1867.
D. T. EVERTS & CO.,
Gents:—It is with pleasure that I can add my testimony to that now almost universally borne as to the merits of your Anti-Malarial Bitters. I had been suffering from constantly recurring attacks of Chills and Fever for nearly twelve months, and during that time I believe that I have tried every remedy ever recommended for that disease, taking advantage, as well, of the advice of the best physicians in the country, but without any benefit. I have simply to say that I used this medicine and was entirely cured. Let no sufferer from this disease fail to try this remedy, and he will be surprised at the immediate and entire relief he will receive.
S. W. BRITTON.
D. T. EVERTS,
Sir:—Having been induced to try your valuable medicine in a severe case of Ague and Fever, contracted on the Appomattox river, it gives me great pleasure to state that it gave me entire relief almost instantaneously, after suffering some months and trying various doctors and remedies. I will here recommend all who are suffering from the above, to give it a fair trial. Respectfully yours,
JNO. WYTHE PARKS, Norfolk, Va.
D. T. EVERTS & Co., Petersburg, Va.:
Gents:—I hereby certify to the efficacy of your Bitters in the treatment of Chills and Fever, especially with children. One of my children, three years old, had been suffering from them for several months; I used your Bitters and they had the desired effect. I cheerfully recommend them to all who are suffering from Chills and Fever. J. D. STONE.

ANTI-MALARIAL BITTERS.—This preparation of our neighbors is making friends in every direction. Below we copy from the Richmond Examiner an article in commendation of them. Fortunately for us our health is so good as not to require medicines, and hence we cannot speak of them from experience, but the gentlemen named below are both known to us, and we are willing to endorse them:
"Many compounds have been made by all sorts of philanthropists to give tone to the stomach, but most of them have proved failures. Not so, however, with the new discovery in the Materia Medica of D. T. Everts & Co., of Petersburg; for, if we can place confidence in the word of well known gentlemen, the Anti-Malarial Bitters, manufactured and sold by these gentlemen, approach nearer the elixir of life than any other mixture that has ever been offered to the public. It is said to be a specific for Chills and Fever, and all diseases arising from malarial poisoning. In support of the excellent curative and tonical qualities of these Bitters, we have the free testimony of Mr. S. W. Britton, of Petersburg, and Mr. John Wythe Parks, of Norfolk, gentlemen whose word cannot be questioned. We advise all who are suffering from any of the complaints to which the stomach of digestive organs is heir, to drink freely of the Anti-Malarial Bitters.

PROCEEDINGS
Of Meeting to Remove Confederate Dead at Iuka, Miss., May 27, 1867.
AT a meeting of the citizens of Iuka, Tishomingo county, State of Mississippi, the Hon. J. D. Martin was called to the Chair and Prof. T. J. Norcom to act as Secretary, who explained the object of the meeting to be the adoption of suitable measures for removing the remains of the Confederate Dead interred at various places in this town to an appropriate Cemetery.
After some very appropriate and touching remarks by D. N. Cayce upon this duty both of respect to the dead, to the feelings of their mourning friends, and to our town, Dr. J. N. Powell moved that a committee be appointed by the chairman to report suitable resolutions embodying the best plan for carrying out the object of the meeting; whereupon the following gentlemen were appointed on the committee: Messrs. D. N. Cayce, R. W. Price, J. M. Coman, Dr. J. S. Davis, A. T. Mathews, Dr. J. A. Powell, J. C. Hoilman, Col. J. L. Moore and A. W. Patterson.
On motion of Maj. Coman, the Chairman of the meeting was made Chairman of the committee, and Col. R. W. Price was elected Treasurer to receive and disburse all funds used for this purpose.
At an adjourned meeting at 8 o'clock p.m. the committee reported the following resolutions:
Resolved, That we believe it to be the duty of all good citizens to respect their Dead by giving a decent interment to their remains in suitable grounds consecrated to that purpose; and whereas, there are about two hundred Confederate Soldiers, of whom four-fifths are Missourians, buried on private property near the Hotel and at various places within the corporate limits of Iuka,
Resolved, That we desire to have them removed and interred in the Shady Grove Cemetery, near the southeast corner of the town of Iuka, already consecrated as a burial ground.
Resolved, That Dr. Wm. M. Willson be and is hereby authorized, to remove and inter them in Shady Grove Cemetery as speedily as possible, according to the following specifications, viz: The remains of each one to be placed in a plain box, of suitable length, width and depth, made of new plank, and that small head and foot boards bearing such inscriptions as he may obtain to mark their final resting place.
Resolved, That the sum of one thousand dollars will be a fair and first consideration to be paid for said removal and interment, and that Dr. Wm. M. Willson be, and is hereby authorized, to collect said amount by private subscription, or by soliciting donations from the public in any manner most expeditious to the completion of the work; and that all funds must be first directed and paid to the Treasurer, Col. R. W. Price to be by him received and paid over to said Willson as fast as collected, until the full amount of one thousand dollars has been paid him for said work.
Resolved, That as the good citizens of Iuka have been very liberal in attending on the sick and wounded in hospital and in burying the dead, that we solicit from our friends elsewhere pecuniary aid for defraying the expenses of this work.
Resolved, That we regard Dr. Wm. M. Willson a high toned Christian gentleman, and hereby cordially recommend him to the kind attention and consideration of all whom he may visit or communicate with in his effort to raise funds for this laudable purpose.
Resolved, That a copy of the proceedings of this meeting be forwarded to the Iuka, Memphis and St. Louis papers, with the request for publication, which were unanimously adopted.

T. J. NORCOM, Secretary. je18 1w
